> Hi Andy,

> How have things been? We get request from DOJ agents periodically for LInX access but we need your HQ to officially join and sign the MOU. I have offered to come out and give your Bureau Chief a demo but haven't heard anything back. I am including the basic info on the system so your agency knows what is required. Let me know if you think we can get the MOU signed form HQ.

> LInX is a government data sharing program run by the Naval Criminal Investigative Service (NCIS). The program is for law enforcement agencies only and is generally free to local, state and federal agencies. There are basically two requirements to participate in LInX. The agency be in the general area of Naval or other military bases, which you are and be willing to share their information to the other participating agencies. I am a recently retired lieutenant for Riverside (CA) PD and we have been LInX members for about ten years. During this time, we did not pay anything for the initial set up nor have we ever paid to participate.

LInX has 15 regions throughout the United States and your agency would have access to every region. You would also have access to N-DEx (FBI) database and D-DEx (Dept. of Defense) information. Participating agencies generally share information such as CAD calls, FI, pawn, stolen property, initial reports, narratives, warrants and booking photos. The only requirement is the information is legally sharable and the individual agency decides what they want to share.

Your agency would be a member of the Southwest LInX Region Board of Governance. Every participating agency has a representative on the board which is currently chaired by the Orange County Sheriff and Riverside Police Chief. I am attaching some additional information for your review and if you would like a presentation and live demo of the system I would be happy to come visit you. I am also available by email or my cell should you wish to talk in person.

I am attaching three documents for your review:

1. NCIS annual report
2. Appendix A which your chief signs
3. MOU between the region and NCIS. The MOU is for information purposes only and cannot be changed

Subject: Linx access

Good morning,

My name is Andy Spillman a Special Agent with the California Department of Justic assigned to the Bureau of Investigation, Special Operation Unit and charged with investigating violent crimes to include murder, murder for hire, street gangs, and organized crime. I am attempting to gain access to Linx and the Riverside County Sheriff's Department Data warehouse. Thank you in advance for your assistance in helping me with this matter.
